Personality Comparison: Papillon vs. Pomeranian vs. Paperanian

Trait	Papillon	Pomeranian	Paperanian (L3A Personal Proposed Standard)
Overall Personality	Bright, cheerful, athletic, and eager	Bold, spirited, confident, and entertaining	Cheerful, confident, athletic, intelligent, and adaptable
Affection with Family	Very affectionate and people-oriented	Deeply devoted to their favorite people	Highly affectionate while maintaining some independence
Intelligence	Exceptionally intelligent; among the most trainable toy breeds	Intelligent and quick to learn but occasionally independent	Combines the Papillon's eagerness with the Pomeranian's cleverness
Trainability	Extremely eager to please; excels in obedience and agility	Learns quickly but can have a stubborn streak	Highly trainable with a playful enthusiasm for learning
Confidence	Confident without being bossy	Very self-confident and often fearless	Self-assured yet balanced and socially adaptable
Energy Level	High; enjoys activity and having a job	Moderate to high; playful with bursts of energy	Moderately high; enjoys both adventures and relaxing with family
Playfulness	Loves games, sports, and interactive activities	Loves games and being the center of attention	Highly playful and enjoys interactive play and tricks

L3A Papillons, Pomeranians & Paperanians

Social with Strangers	Generally welcoming and friendly	Friendly but often more reserved until comfortable	Friendly, curious, and appropriately cautious
Barking	Moderate; usually barks with purpose	More vocal and likely to announce everything	Moderate to moderately high; alert but easier to manage with training
Adaptability	Thrives almost anywhere if included in family life	Easily adapts to apartments or larger homes	Extremely adaptable to different homes, climates, and lifestyles
With Other Dogs	Usually very sociable	Can be confident or bossy with larger dogs	Friendly while maintaining healthy confidence

Personality Summary

Papillon

The Papillon is the athlete and scholar of the toy breeds. Curious, eager to learn, and highly people-focused, it thrives when given activities that challenge both mind and body. It enjoys pleasing its owner and often excels in dog sports such as agility, rally, and obedience.

Pomeranian

The Pomeranian is the performer and entertainer. Bold far beyond its size, it approaches life with confidence and charm. While intelligent and trainable, it often has a more independent nature and enjoys being the center of attention. Pomeranians are excellent watchdogs and lively companions.

Paperanian

Papillon Smarts. Pomeranian Spark.

The proposed Paperanian blends the Papillon's intelligence and willingness to learn with the Pomeranian's confidence and charisma. The result is a toy dog that is affectionate, adaptable, playful, and eager to participate in family life. Ideally, the Paperanian would be outgoing without being overly demanding, alert without excessive barking, and energetic enough for activities with a humorous spirit while remaining content to relax with its family. It is envisioned as a companion that excels in training, enjoys learning tricks and games, and forms close bonds with its people while maintaining a cheerful, confident disposition.

created by “L3A” for our breeding program, breeding Paperanians with purpose

L3A Papillons, Pomeranians & Paperanians